a triplet of bridges

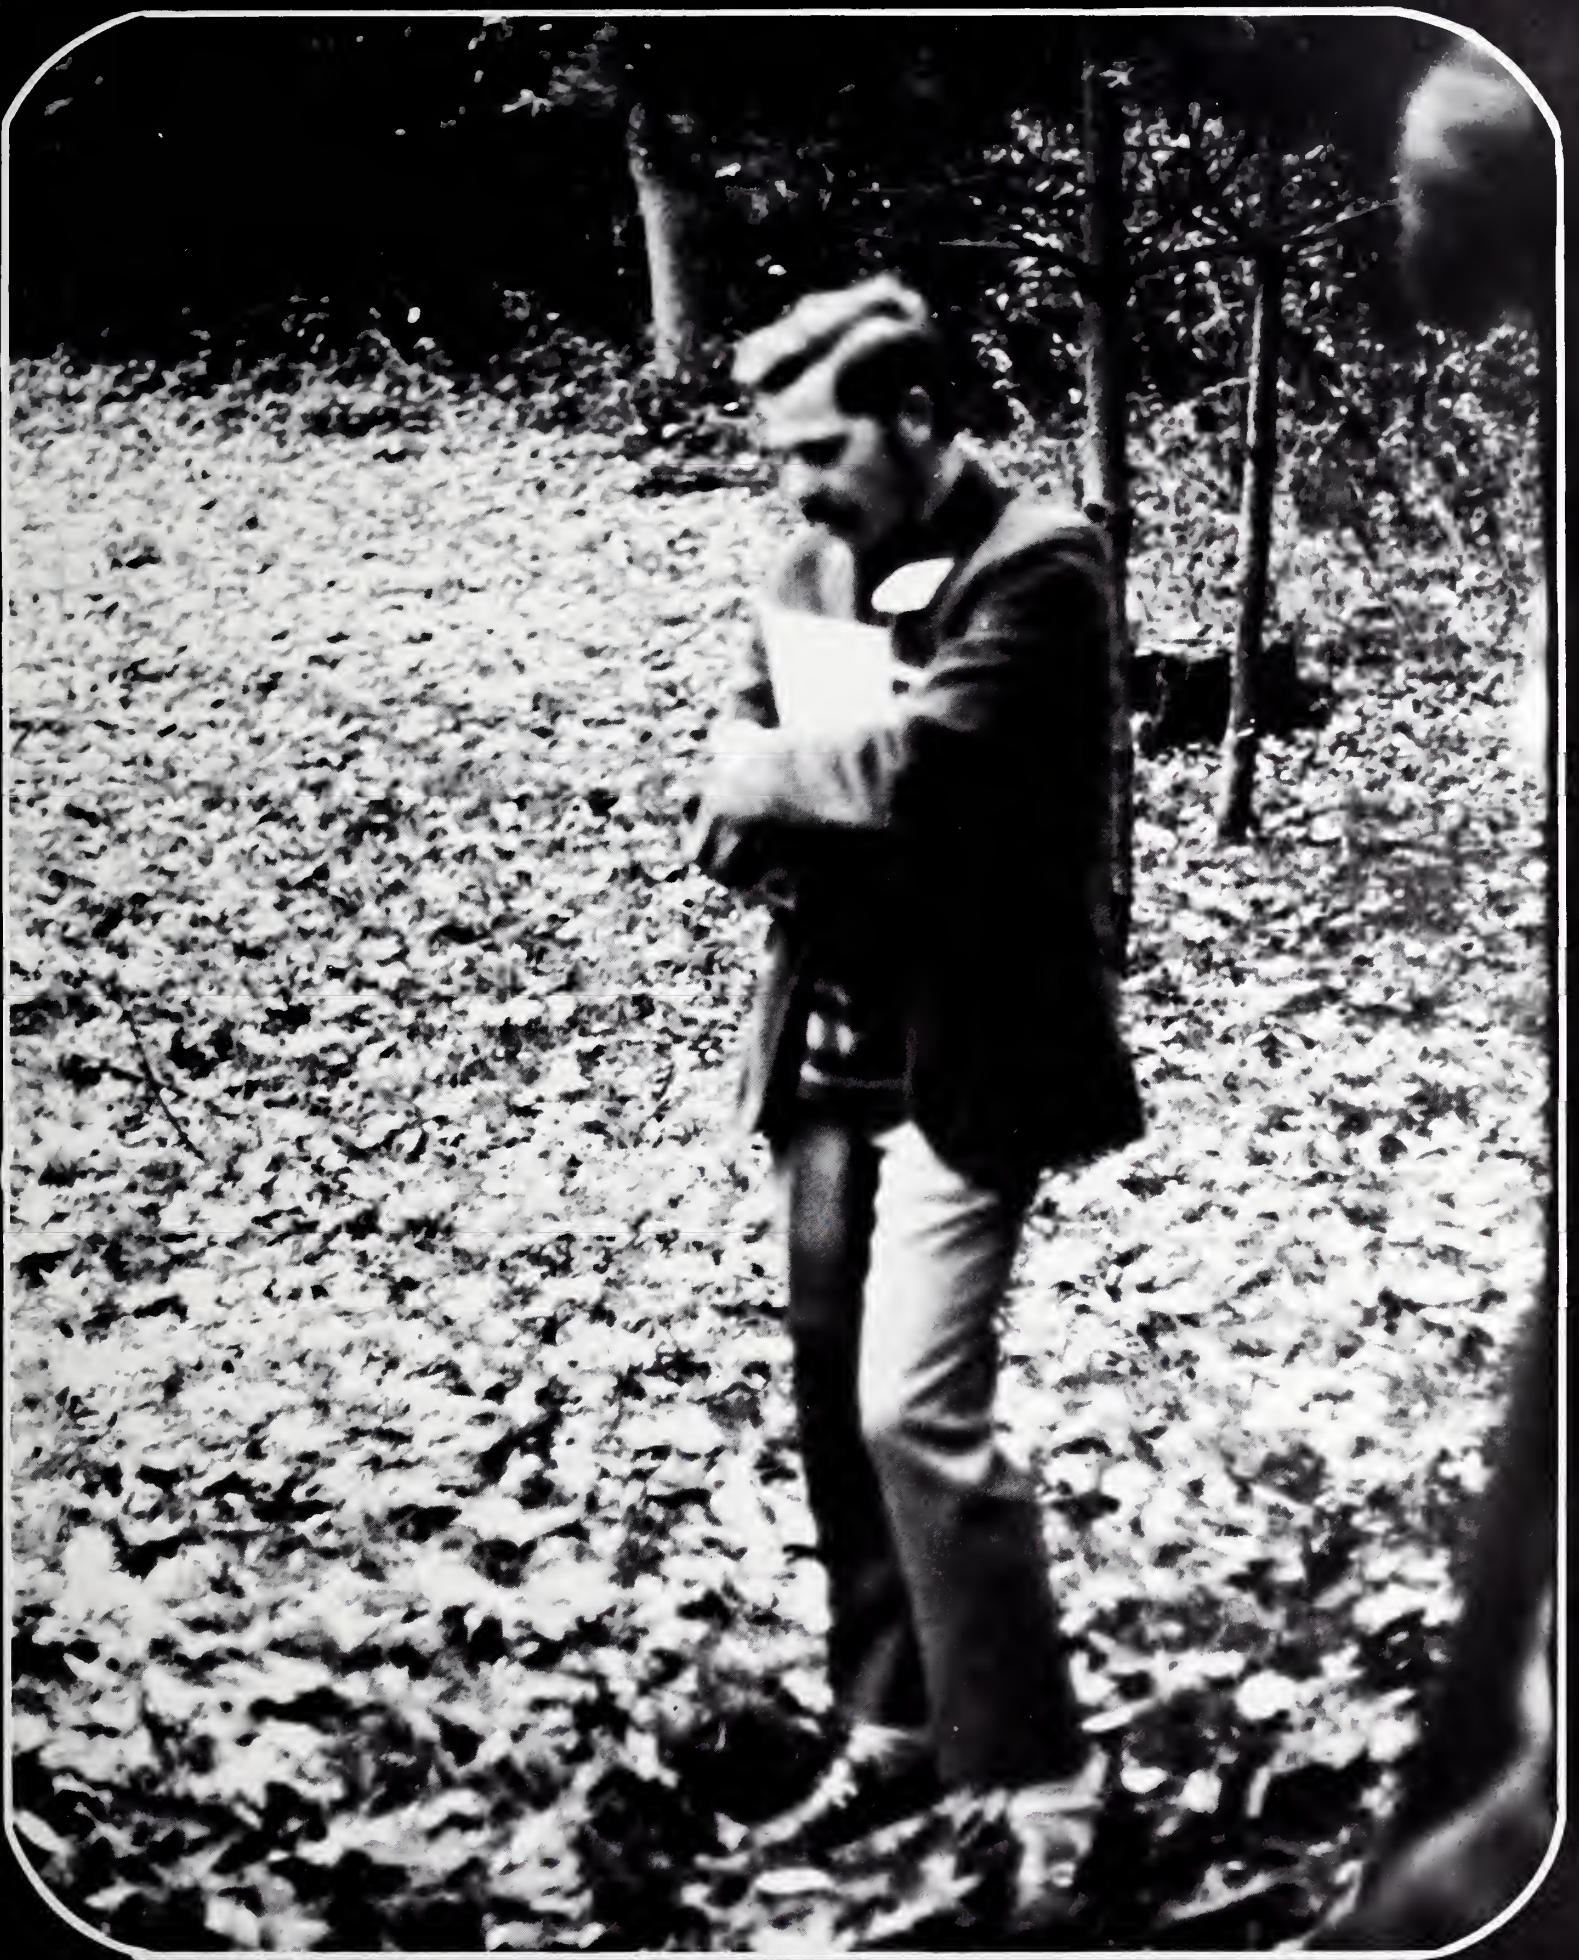

ours is a campus stretched on rolling land.
graced by both trees of planning and the cast of wind, it bears the bite of river and the cut of rain —
scarred by the runoff
and teased with pain
that marshy history and rapid fill have both made plain.

this is a place that draws the passing throng so readily available as summer limps into september,
and the verdent autumn fires
call for a final fling of energy before prim winter thins the hearty air, righting the wrong alliances of shared desire.

one does not often find such harmony of hills and valleys as our school combines,
unless the span of effort is advanced.
and here three bridges tie the campus into one.
sturdy as concrete
and as integral as wood,
they stand,
uniting both the spirit and the land.

the bridge of patience and the span of truth
both in their time were rudely swept away, and one would be remiss to think that love
had never felt the stringence of abuse.
but we have vowed
all bridges will find use,
and if they weaken, or perchance decay,
we will not rue our lot.
with god assisting,
we will build anew.

dedication:
mr. charles waugaman

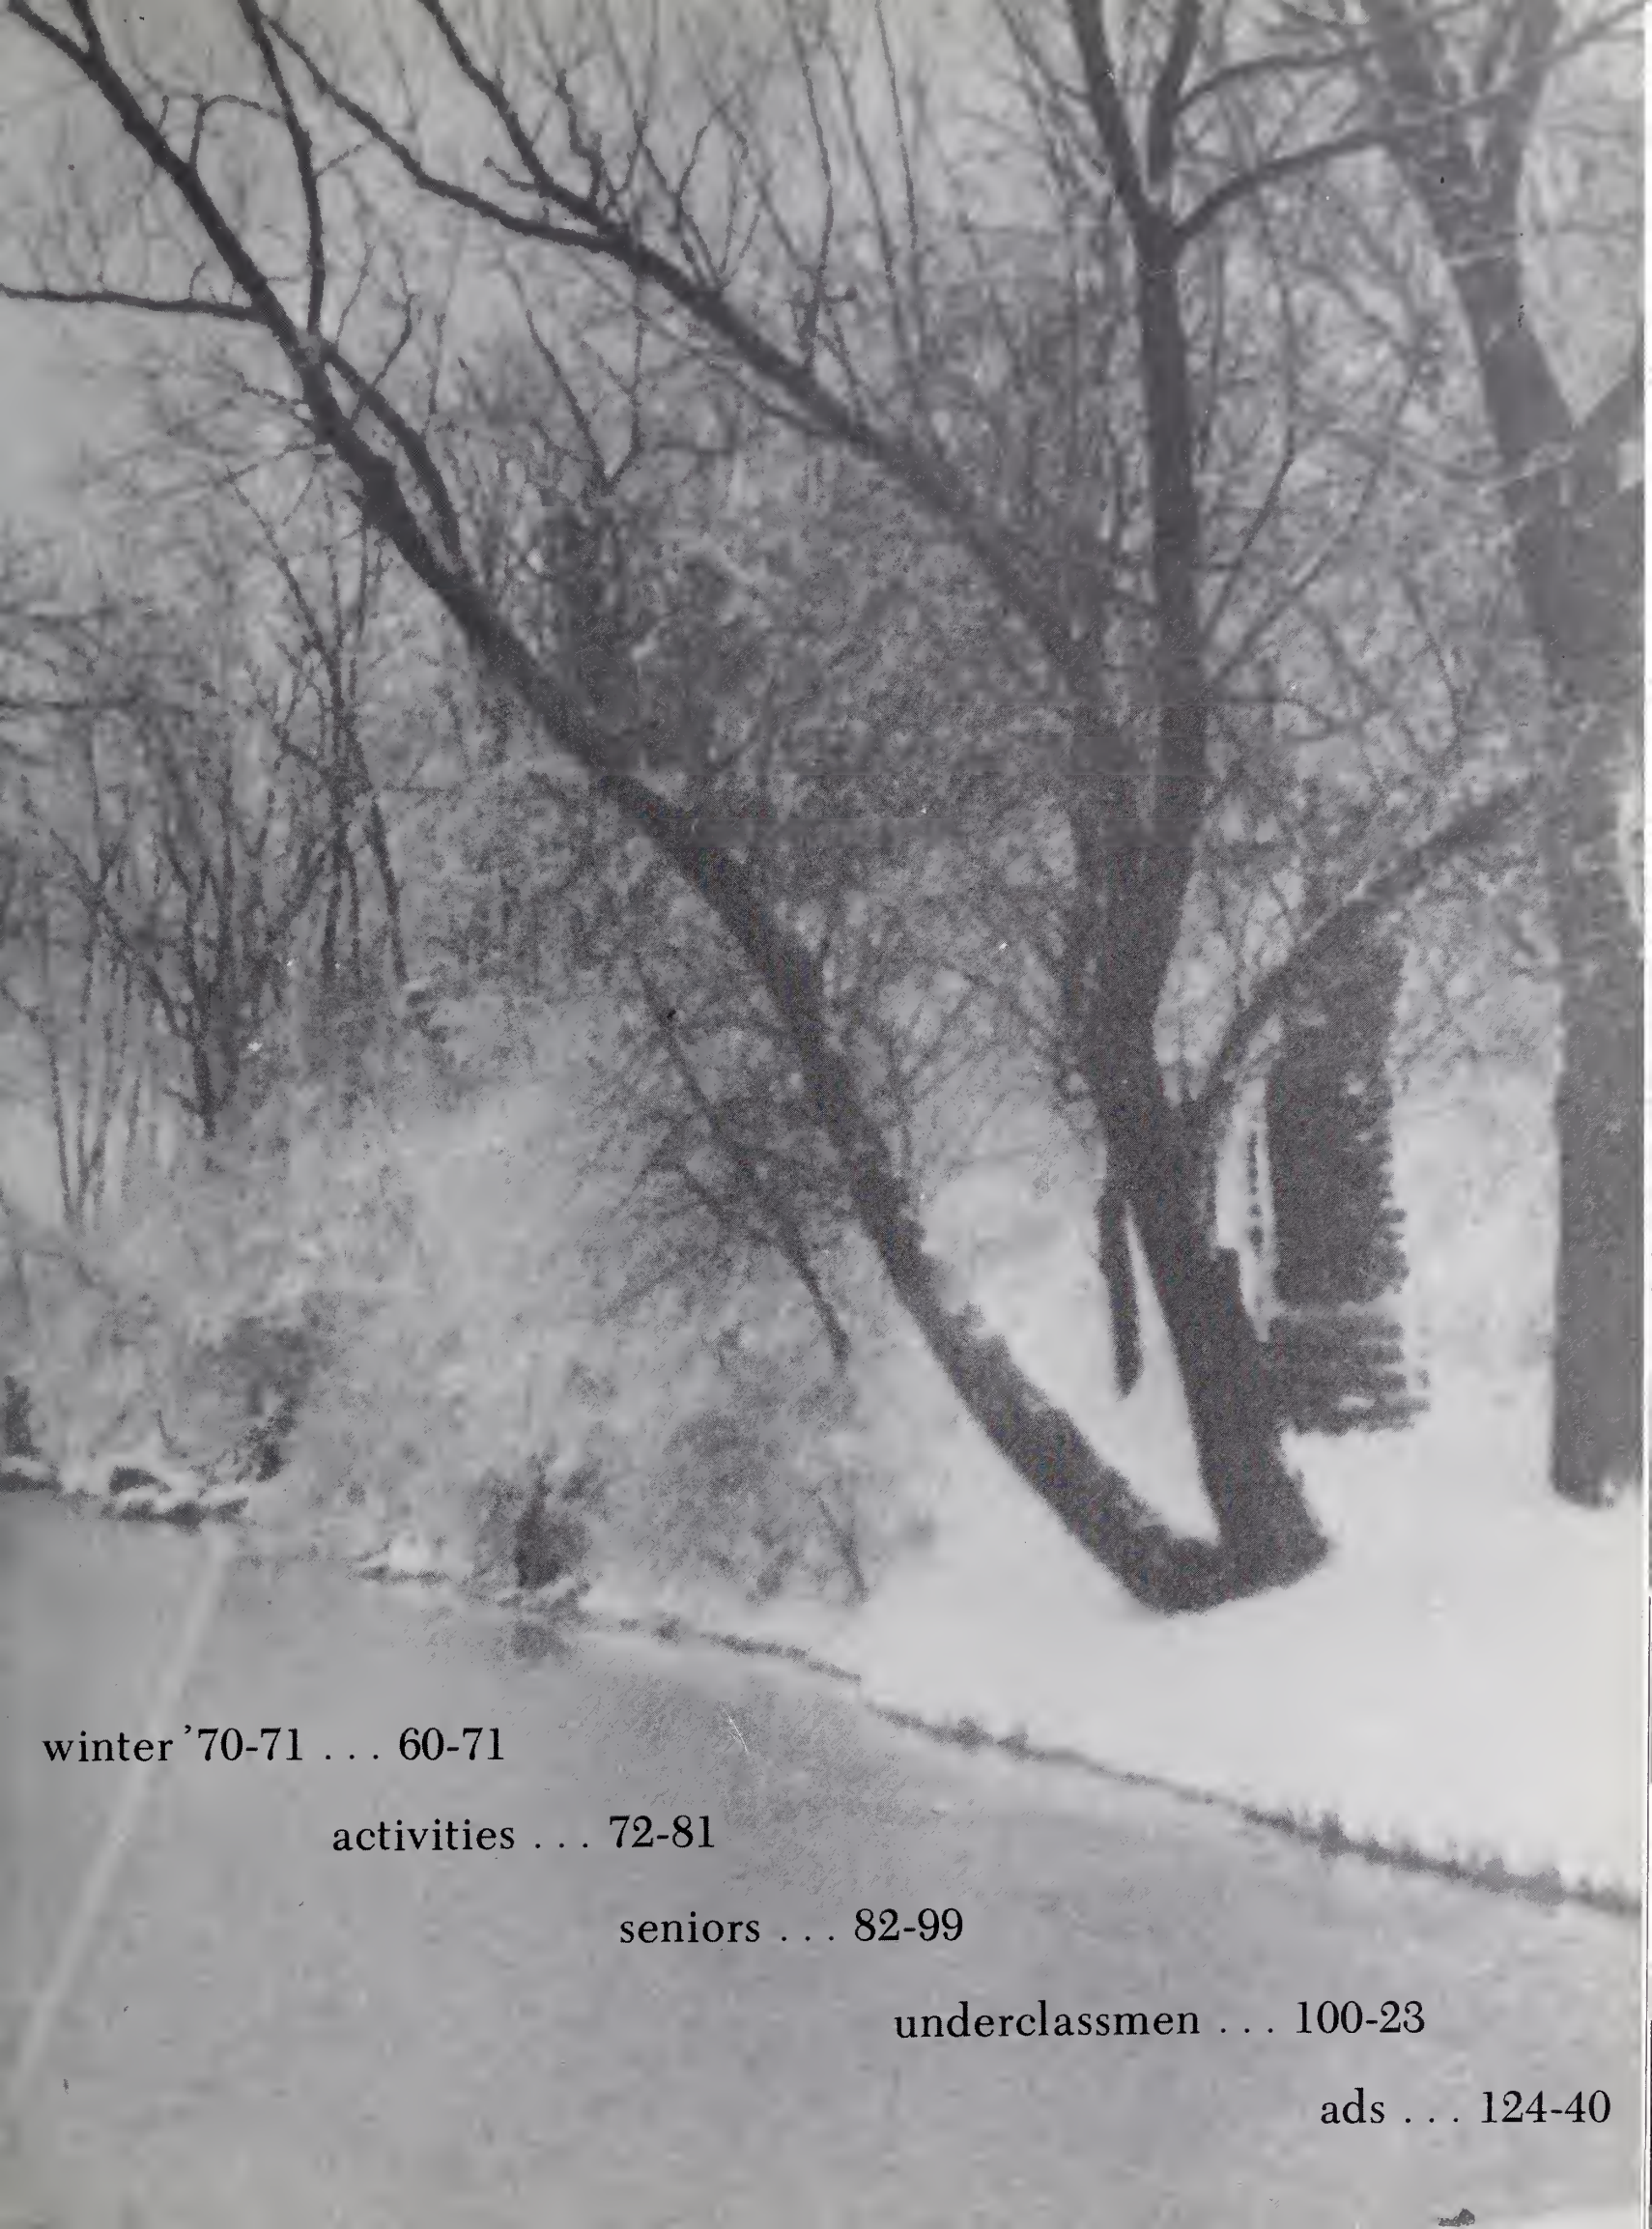

this is judson college as seen through the eyes of the few who compiled this book and the many who helped to bring it about by simply being a part of the college environment. and it is to this small community, built with varying backgrounds and opinions, yet united by the spirit of learning and our savior, that we present the 1970-71 lantern.

judson progressed into it's second season of baseball gaining a respectable record of 8 and 12. the season was highlighted by the team's outstanding hitting. judson led the 4-state area in batting averages at .300, allowing their opponents an average of only .227. bruce mulholland, gary keesling, and dennis gade were outstanding at the plate, while gade and keesling led the team in total hits at 26 apiece. although the hitting doesn't show it, injuries hindered the eagle's defense. ron noe sustained an injury to his throwing arm and mulholland a fractured wrist. the situation caused complications to coach smith as he had to shift men out of their native positions to cover for the injuries effectively.

gary keesling was again most outstanding as he established a new niic pitching record of 15 strikeouts in one game against geroe williams. niic all-conference selections were bruce mulholland, dennis gade, and woody smith.

in addition to the time and effort of practice the coach and several of the players helped in developing a new diamond which will be judson's home ground in competition. the coach casts an optimistic eye on the 1971 season losing only one senior, brent weber.

miss kaye brewer was choosen to reign as the 1970 judson college may queen. kaye, a freshman from villa grove, illinois, was coronated the night of the annual spring banquet. the events of the night included dinner and a play at pheasant run in st. charles and the coronation of the queen and her court at the college gymnasium; the coronation was followed by a rock concert presentation by the "Possum River."

queen kaye is backed by a court of five other young ladies: janice miller was selected as the first runner-up with jill blatchley as second runner-up. sue elson, pam nohren, and connie williamson completed the court.

today is a beautiful day! the rays of light filtered through the sentinels of trees this morning. i sat by the creek and contemplated. i missed classes, but somehow it didn't matter. the serenity and beauty of my feelings and surroundings completely captivated me . . .

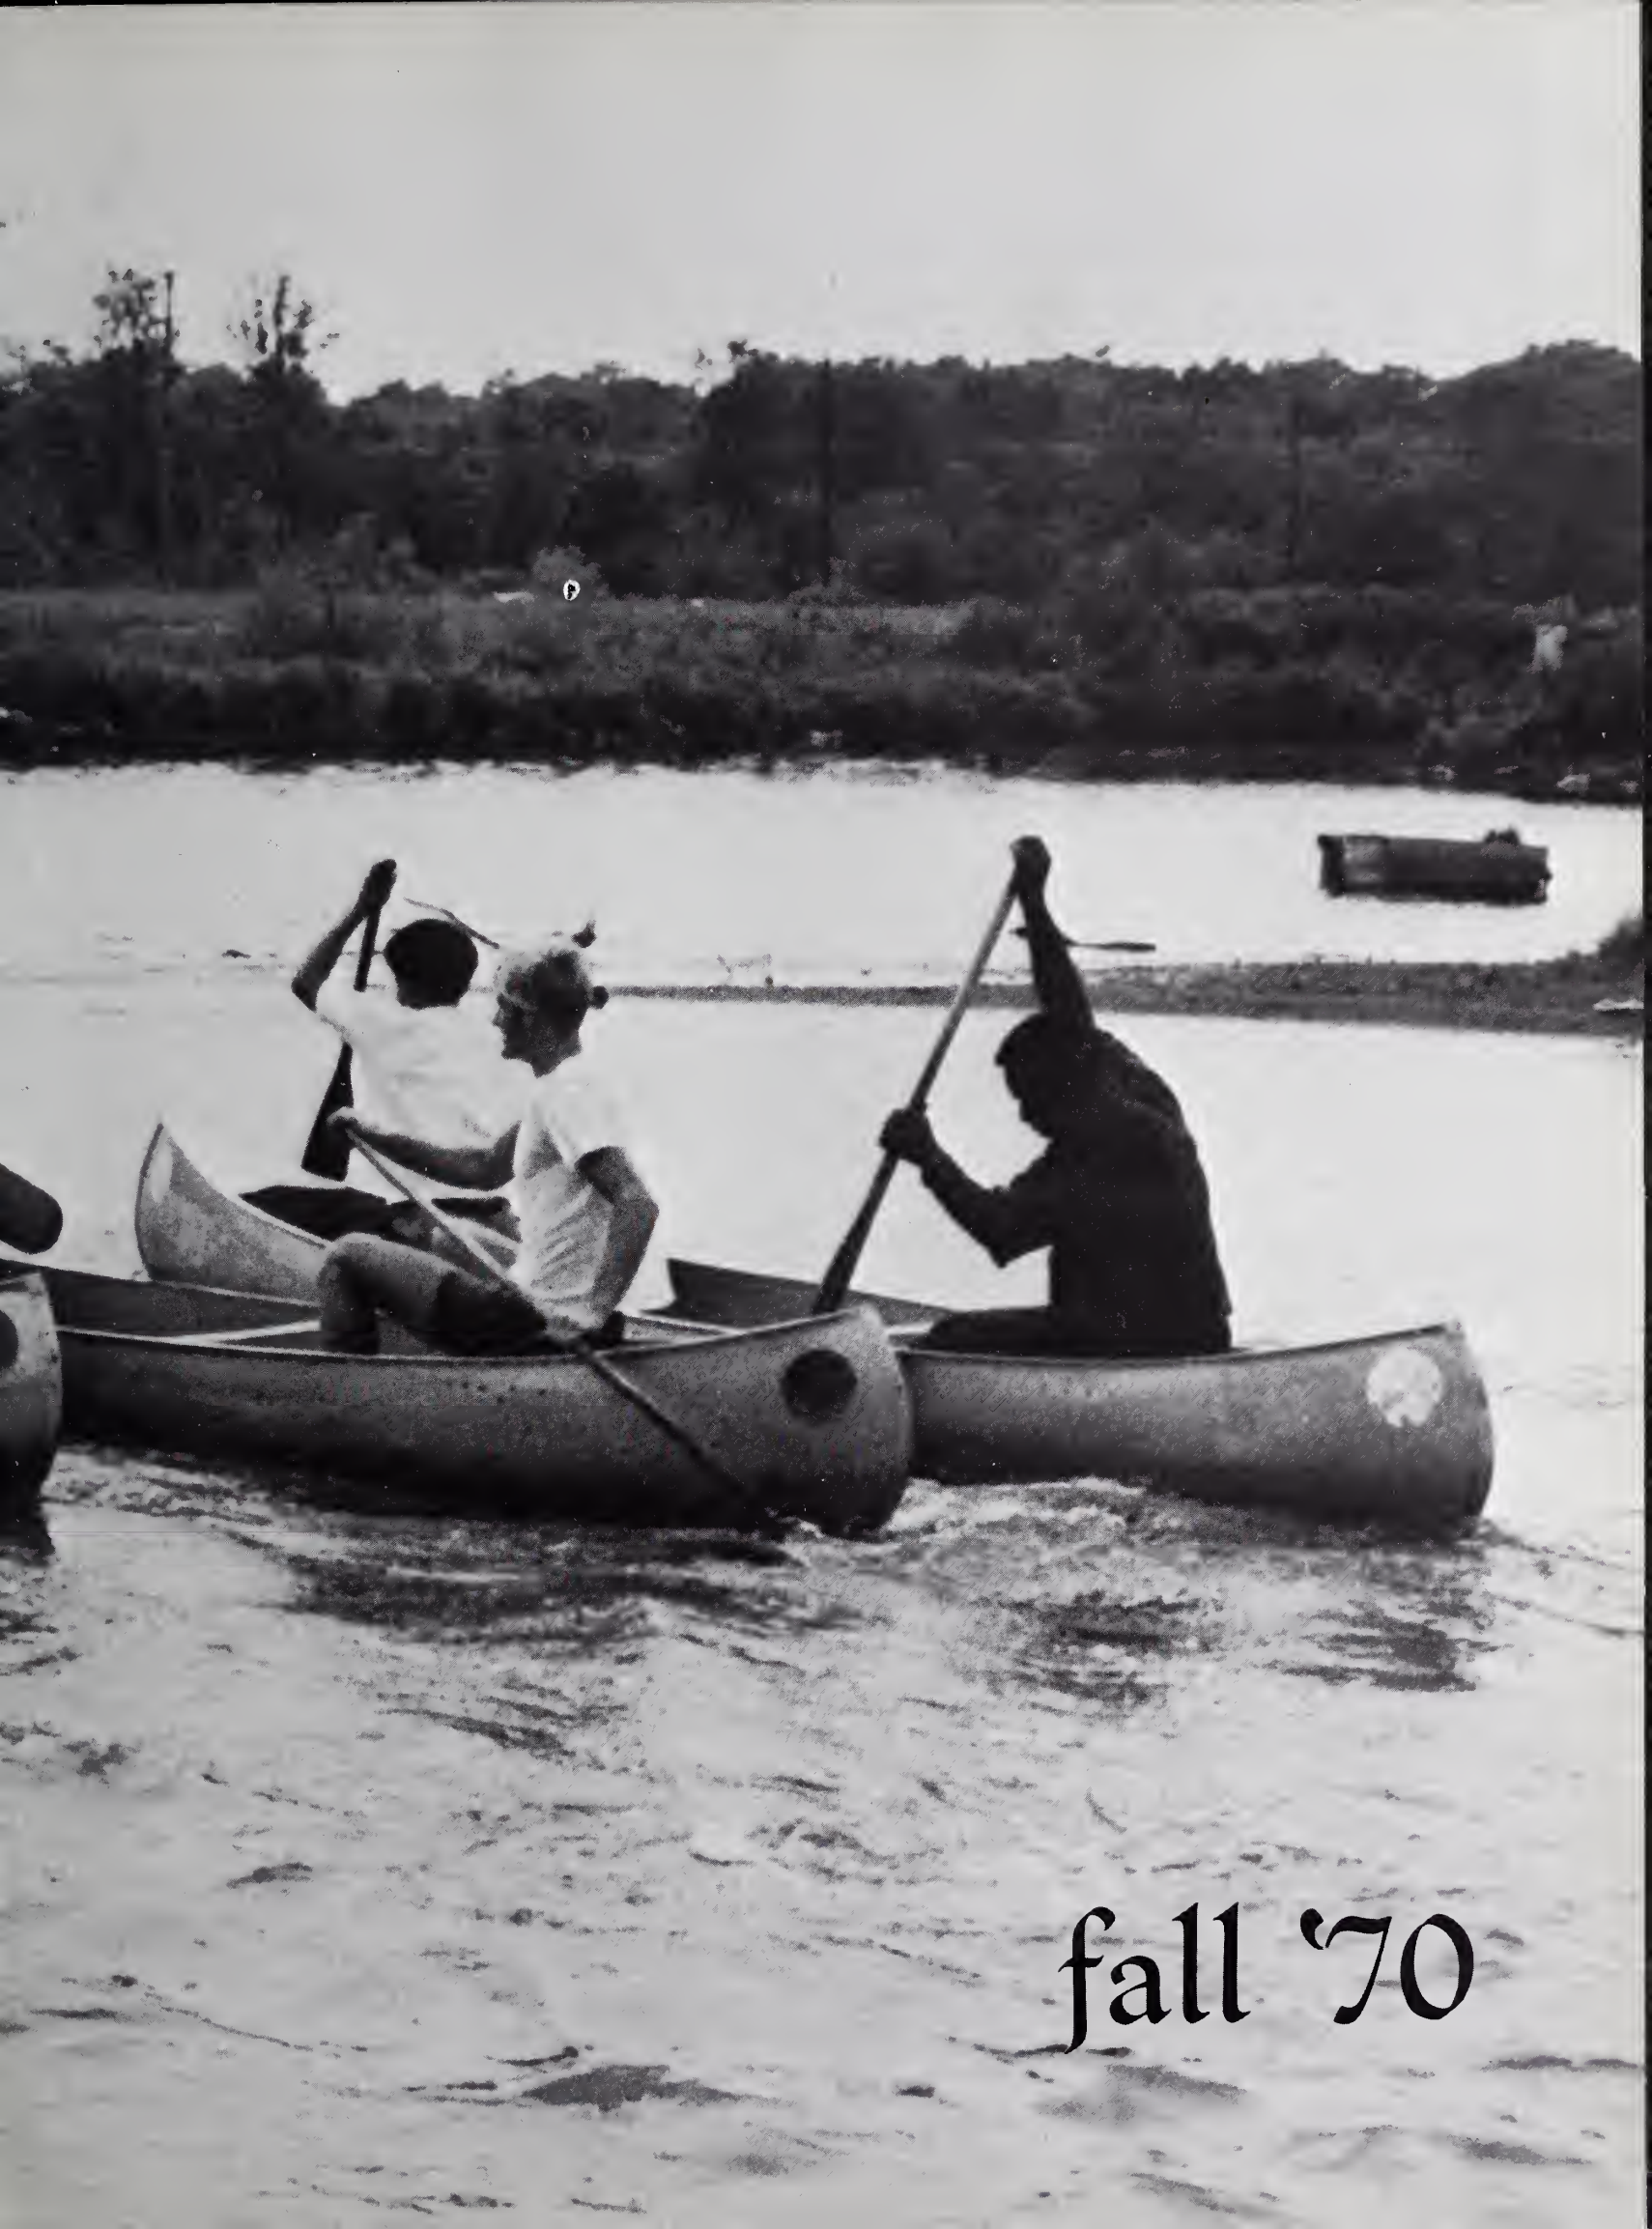

i thought of you. i discovered you tucked away in the shadows of the trees. then rediscovered you on the smiles of the flowers as the sun penetrated the petals . . . in the rhythm of the leaves falling upon the stream . . . in the freedom of the robin as he flew searching as you do.

i'm very happy to have found you again. now, you will never leave me, for i will always find you in the beauty of life.

graduating seniors: tom kimble, ed allen, craig marshall and coach smith.

the 1970 eagles marshalled an outstanding season record of 10 and 2. judson's raucous scoring attack led by woody smith and tom kimble tallied 45 goals while the three fullbacks, and goalie skip benham, allowed only 27 shots to enter judson nets.

decisive mid-field play of silo ruschienski, mike glickert, and craig marshall was the key to several judson victories. judson shut out the opposition on two occasions this year. the first blank was handed to shimer college and the other to mary knoll when reserve chuck gilson played a very commendable game in the absence of injured goalie skip benham.

the only disappointment of the year came when aurora squeezed by judson in a hard-fought controversial contest. it was judson's only loss in conference play and the second defeat of the season. overall, the record reflects the season well. 1971 proposes an even better outlook.

memories bridge the past to the present. they lend to the mind feelings of nostalgia about the events of yesteryear. as the senior class of 1971 looks back through these pages, fond memories of college days will come to mind. the fun, laughter, trials, and tears will all be remembered. the growth which occurred during these past days will helpfully give each individual a deeper insight into life and a sense of commitment to one's own goals. Thus, these memories link the past with the future — serving as a bridge throughout all of life.

"the gap between generations will never be completely closed. but it must be spanned. for the bridge across the generation is essential to the nation in the present; and more, it is the bridge to our future — and thus in a central sense, to the very meaning of our own lives. whatever their differences with us, whatever the depth of their dissent, it is vital for us as much as for them that our young feel that change is possible, that they will be heard, that the follies and cruelties of the world will yield, however grudgingly, to the sacrifices they are prepared to make. above all, we seek a sense of possibility."

robert f. kennedy
